v.

ORDER ON REMAND FROM THE LAW COURT

DEBRA REGAN,

Defendant

And

CITIFINANCIAL, INC.,

Party in Interest

The Court has received the mandate in this matter from the Clerk of the Law Court. Consistent with that mandate, the Court Vacates the Judgment of January 3, 2013 and Dismisses this matter with prejudice.

The Court understands that the Defendant has inquired about taxing of costs and attorney fees in this matter. Pursuant to Maine Rule of Appellate Procedure 13, costs are to be taxed against an unsuccessful party in a civil case unless the Law Court otherwise directs. On request of a prevailing party, the Clerk of the Law Court is to certify in detail to the trial court the amount of costs taxed in the Law Court. The Court directs the Defendant to those provisions as to taxation of costs. The Clerk of this Court shall tax costs in this court in accord with M.R.Civ.P. 54(e).

The Clerk is directed to make the following entry in the civil docket pursuant to M.R.Civ.P. 79(a): "This Order is incorporated into the docket by reference at the specific direction of the Court."
